

BESTWOOD PARK DAY NURSERY NEWSLETTER

| 14TH OF SEPTEMBER 2020 |

Last week

Hello everybody! We are so sorry that the news letter was missed last week. We were so busy focusing on our launch of the clevercooks course. If it was your turn this week, we hope you and your child had lots of fun! Keep checking your emails as we will email you when it is your childs turn.

Moving on, Last week in the nursery, we focused a lot on our bodies and feelings. We spoke to the children about our bones and basically keeping our bodies healthy.

We celebrated World bread day with the children by baking our own cheese and chive bread. The children really loved this activity. We extended this by taking a walk to the shop to find out where we buy the ingredients from. We saw lots of different foods at the shop which encouraged us to speak with the children about healthy eating.

Back at nursery, we started some toddler yoga sessions which worked brilliant in the morning to get the children calm ready for the day ahead.

Our lovely teacher Jo used her skills as a qualified football coach and we took the children onto the big field for some games of football.

We had such a fun filled week with lots of memories and learning expeirences.

This week

This week we are going to be looking into what it means to be a family. We will be doing lots of talking and activities surrounding different families and who the children live with. This will include lots of discussion surrounding different types of house, cultures and ways of life.

We will also be looking at different occupations. In the past when we have followed this theme we have invited parents in but unfortunately due to our restrictions we cant this time! However if any of you have photograpghs you would like to send us with your work uniform on that would be great! We will also be looking at family pets

Parent reminders

Please consider bringing your child into nursery with some wellies and all in one outdoor suits! Although the weather seems nice this week, we are heading into autumn which means that the weather will start to get colder. We will still be outside as much as possible through rain or shine! We are selling waterproofs from the office for £9. If you would like to purchase these, please ask at the door and somebody will arrange this for you.

We have noticed that some parents are not actively using babysdays. It is really important that you are checking babysdays every day as we have noticed that we have some accident and incident forms that are not being signed by the parent. If you are having problems with babysdays please give us a call so we can try and fix this for you as soon as possible.

Have a great week!
